SPECIAL GUEST: LING HUI We are highly pleased and fortunate to have such a young and talented concert pianist as our guest artist.

Born in Beijing, Ling Hui started studying piano at the age of five. She studied at the Central Conservatory of Music in Beijing and completed her Diploma at the Hong Kong Academy of Performing Arts. She entered the San Francisco Conservatory in 1990, and is currently working with Mack McCray. Her former teachers include Li Qi Fang, Yin Cheng Zong, and John Winther.

Ling Hui is no stranger to this community! This is her third appearance, having performed for a SMAA and Twin Cities joint concert -- all three appearances were total sellouts. Her truly outstanding quality has developed a devoted audience, unparalleled to anything this community has heard. By listening to this young master, you will have to agree that classical music is truly classical.
